

French Deindustrialisation and Socio-Political Consequences

15th November 2024, Paris

The ERC-funded project “Deindustrializing Societies and the Political Consequences (DESPO)” at the University of Milan, the Institut national d’études démographiques (INED), and The Worlds of Labour — IMERA/LEST Chair have the pleasure to organise a one-day workshop on the socio-political consequences of French de-industrialisation

The workshop will be held at INED, on November 15th from 9.30am to 4.30pm. We welcome participants from both the academic and non-academic world.

The schedule will be as follows.

9-9.15 Welcome and introduction Paul Maneuvrier-Hervieu (University of Milan)

9.15-10 Anne-Marie Jeannet (University of Milan) Conceptualizing a Deindustrializing society

10 -10.30 Coffee break

10.30- 11.15 Clément Malgouyres (Paris School of Economics) Shocking Capital: Firm-level Responses to a Large Business Tax Reform in France

11.15 -12 Amandine Tabutaud (University of Evry) Female workers struggling with deindustrialization in Seine-Saint-Denis and Haute-Vienne (1970-1980).

12-13 Lunch

13-13.45 Katy Morris (University of Lausanne) Uneven Shifts: The geography of occupational change and its implications

13.45-14.30 Romain Castellesi (University of Burgundy) The 1992 French dockers' struggle: between insubordination and deindustrialization

14.30-15 Coffee Break

15 – 15.45 Clément Barbier, Fabien Desage, Antonio Delfini (University of Lille) From textile industry to real estate economy. Deindustrialisation coalitions and the restructuring of economic elites in Northern France (1943-1990).

15.45 – 16.15 Concluding remarks Franco Bonomi Bezzo (University of Milan, IMERA, INED)